Major Headlines

Oil slides as US-Iran truce hopes outweigh Houthi attacks on Saudi Arabia

Oil prices fell on Friday as markets weighed the possibility of a truce between the US and Iran against concerns that increasing attacks against Saudi Arabia by Houthi fighters could disrupt supply from the key Middle Eastern producer. Brent was down 40 cents, or 0.4%, at $106.20 a barrel by 0821 GMT, while West Texas Intermediate (WTI) was $1.02, or 1.1% lower at $93.59 a barrel.

Gold on track for weekly loss as Fed hike bets rise, dollar weighs

Gold prices edged higher on Friday, but remained on track for a weekly decline, dented by strength in the U.S. dollar and expectations for further Federal Reserve rate hikes aimed at corraling inflation. At 04:59 ET (08:59 GMT), spot gold had risen by 0.5% to $4,293.56 an ounce, while gold futures rose 0.7% to $4,329.97 an ounce.

Wall St futures pause after AI rally, focus on Mideast tensions

Wall Street's main indexes were steady on Tuesday, following strong AI-driven gains in the previous session, while investors awaited potential talks between the United States and Iran that could end their six-month-old conflict. Oil prices and the yield on the benchmark 10-year Treasury note, which have driven recent market sentiment, hovered near warning levels, reflecting how investors were holding ground ahead of key events later this week.

US yields jump to multi-year highs on Fed tightening bets, bond market turmoil

US Treasury yields stretched to their highest levels in years on Wednesday, fuelled by a mix of rising expectations of further monetary tightening by the US Federal Reserve (Fed), following upbeat US business activity data and a poor US Treasury bond auction. These levels are consistent with higher borrowing costs in mortgages, credit cards or corporate loans, ultimately posing a significant strain on economic growth.

EUR/USD Price Forecast: At make or a break near 1.1350

The Euro (EUR) trades marginally lower at around 1.1375 against the US Dollar (USD) in the early European trade on Friday, but is inside Thursday's trading range. The major currency pair is broadly under pressure as the US Dollar (USD) outperforms across the board.
